1. At the request of Congressman William Archer's Administrative Assistant, on 19 June 1975 the [REDACTED] interviewed [REDACTED] in Congressman Archer's office. Describing himself as an advanced research inventor, having completed about 30 "major electronic inventions," [REDACTED] outlined his concern relative to a mid July 1975 "Soviet invasion of the US." The Subject also requested the writer to read the following two books which are made available in Houston through the American Opinion Library: Henry Kissinger, Soviet Agent by Frank A. Capell and Canada: How the Communists Took Control by Allen Stang. [REDACTED] also brought to the attention of the writer the Phyllis Schlafly Report, Volume 8, No. 4, Section 1.

2. Essentially, [REDACTED] has noticed press accounts, i.e., the Houston Chronicle of 27 August 1974, regarding the construction of 1,100 airstrips in northern Mexico. Also, at about the same time this matter appeared in the press, an incident occurred which triggered the Subject's imagination. His mother, the manager of a small grocery store in northern California, had employed an individual of Chinese ancestry from Macao, [REDACTED]. An unnamed individual from Macao who visited [REDACTED] alleged that while in the US he would take extensive photography of the southwest United States. It is [REDACTED] contention that the activities of the visitor from Macao and the construction of the airstrips in northern Mexico are related. It is his view that the photography "will be used by the Soviets to launch an invasion of the US, employing the airstrips as staging areas." Further, [REDACTED] is convinced that this invasion "will occur in mid July when the joint Apollo-Soyuz space mission is in progress." It is his view that this joint mission is nothing more than a Soviet trick to relax the vigilance of the US military establishment.

3. The [REDACTED] expressed his appreciation to [REDACTED] for providing his insight into these alleged developments and that his comments would be made available to appropriate Agency officials. Unless advised to the contrary, the [REDACTED] has no intention of recontacting the Subject. For the record, [REDACTED]

OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

Wednesday - 25 June 1975

[REDACTED]

1. [REDACTED] This week's meeting with Senator John C. Stennis, (D., Miss.) was devoted exclusively to the subject of [REDACTED] The Senate Armed Services Committee was going into session to discuss a Somali invitation to visit the area. Because he had another appointment and two telephone calls during the short time I was with him, we never really came to grips with the issue, although I had brought along a photograph and showed him again what the cruise missile facility looked like. I also reminded him of the Director's 13 June 1975 letter on Soviet activities in the Indian Ocean. Following my brief session with the Senator, I contacted Clark McFadden, General Counsel on the Committee on Armed Services, and suggested he lay hands on the letter. McFadden was somewhat bemused noting that the Senator had already passed it out to all the members of the Committee. In any event, I said we stood ready to serve. 25X1

2. [REDACTED] I called on Frank Slatinshek, Chief Counsel on Committee on Armed Services of the House, to explain to him we could not provide an unclassified version of the SIC memo on "Military Implications of Technology Transfer to the Soviet Union." Frank took this in good grace but he said he would like to read the classified version and I agreed to send it down to him via the daily courier run. 25X1
